

«IFRS standard-setting: practical solutions from DELOVOY PROFIL Group»

Transformation of reporting under Russian accounting standards into IFRS financial statements is meeting more and more demand on the Russian market. Deputy head of Audit and IFRS practice Ludmila Striy says this trend is driven by market requirements towards more transparent reporting.

«Trend towards transparency was facilitated by the pandemic when many companies were interested in additional fund-raising. Reports under international standards help to increase company's chances in attracting investment», - states Ludmila Striy.

IFRS reporting also makes possible to compare financial indicators across various time periods and business units. In comparison to RAS standards that makes much easier for the owner to analyze business results. Which is a great advantage that helps to undergo crisis periods a lot easier because the strategic planning and budgeting solutions are driven by structured and transparent information.
